

Privacy Policy

Last Revised: [9.17.2026]

Your privacy is important to BirdDog Adventures, Inc. (“BirdDog”, “we”, “us”, or “our”). This BirdDog Privacy Policy (“Privacy Policy”) describes how BirdDog may collect, use, store, disclose, process, and transfer your personal information, through your access to or use of BirdDog products and services, including those at <https://www.birddogit.com>, subdomains, any website of ours that links to this Privacy Policy, related websites, mobile software applications, and other offerings (collectively, the “Services”). By using these Services, you signify your acceptance of this Privacy Policy. If you do not agree to this Privacy Policy, please do not use the Services. BirdDog may change this Privacy Policy from time to time by posting changes at <https://birddogit.com/privacy-policy>. Your continued use of the Services following the posting of such changes will be deemed your acceptance of those changes.

BirdDog encourages you to read this Privacy Policy in its entirety, but here are a few key points of our privacy practices:

Privacy Policy Applicability

This Privacy Policy applies when you access the Services or share information with BirdDog. BirdDog may revise this Privacy Policy at any time.

Information We Collect from You

We collect all information that you provide including information you provide via the Services, your devices (e.g., computers, smartphones, and tablets), telephone and email, as well as information we receive from partners and using cookies and other such technologies.

How We Use Your Information

We process your personal information only with your consent or as needed to provide you the Services. We may also use your personal information to comply with legal obligations, operate our business, protect the vital interests of you, our customers, or the public, or for other legitimate interests of BirdDog.

How We Share Your Information

We share your information with our partners, service providers, contractors, agents, and third-party vendors as they need it to help us provide the Services or your subscription to the Services, or for other requests you make of BirdDog. We may also share your information to comply with law or for other legitimate interests.

How We Store and Secure Your Information

BirdDog may store your information in any country where BirdDog or its affiliates, partners, or providers operate facilities, and we will retain your information as long as necessary for the purposes outlined in this Privacy Policy or for so long as permitted by law, whichever is shorter. BirdDog takes technological and organizational measures designed to protect your personal information against loss, theft, and unauthorized access, use, disclosure, or modification.

Accessing and Updating Your Information

You can access, get copies of, delete, change, or correct your personal information, or request changes to our use of your personal information by, using the contact information below. You may have additional rights based on where you reside.

Additional Privacy Information

BirdDog's databases are located in the United States, and you consent to the transfer of your personal information from your location to the United States. The Services are not for use by children under the age of 13 years old or the lowest age permitted by applicable law. You may have additional rights under applicable law. If you have any questions about this privacy policy, please contact us via the information below.

Privacy Policy Applicability

This Privacy Policy applies when you access or use the Services or share information with BirdDog. By accessing or using the Services, you consent to this Privacy Policy. BirdDog may update this Privacy Policy at any time. If you do not consent to this Privacy Policy for any reason, please do not access or use the Services or share your information with us. Please note that this Privacy Policy applies only to the Services and not to any other third-party website linked to or from it, or any third-party website in which BirdDog's content or functionality is embedded. We do not control the privacy policies or practices of others.

Information We Collect from You

In general, we receive and collect all information you provide via the Services, including through website input fields (including advertisements), phone, email (including email campaigns), web chat, or other such ways. This includes personal information that can identify or relates to you, including, but not limited to:

You have the choice on what information to share and the Services you want to engage. You can choose not to provide information to us, but in general, some information about you is required in order for you to access certain functionalities of the Services. These functionalities include those mentioned above or for tracking your preferences, subscribing to a newsletter, or initiating other such actions.

We also may periodically obtain information about you from affiliated entities, partners and other independent third-party sources and will add it to our database of information, including any information that you provide to third parties that are associated or whose products and/or services are integrated with the Services. For one example, we may receive information about your interaction with advertisements on third party websites and use this information to update postal addresses and demographic information.

We may use cookies, advertising identifiers, and similar tracking technologies, including those from third-party service providers like Google Analytics, Google Tag Manager, Google AdWords, Google AdSense, and other cloud-based tools, to automatically collect your preferences, performance data, and information about your web usage when you visit the Services. For example, we may collect your IP address, device and Internet service provider information, Web browser details and the address of any referring website. We may also collect information about your online activity, such as pages viewed and interactions with other users. This may include collecting geolocation signals from your IP address or device settings to determine your location. By collecting and using this information, we may operate and personalize the Services for you, including to provide more relevant ads and search results. For more information on how we use cookies, please see the “Cookies” section below.

Although the Services do not respond to legacy "do not track" browser signals, we honor recognized opt-out preference signals, such as the Global Privacy Control (GPC), as a request to opt out of the sale or sharing of personal information for the browser or device on which the signal is received, to the extent required by applicable law. You can control the information collected by such tracking technologies or be alerted when cookies are sent by adjusting the settings on your Internet browser or devices, but such adjustments may affect or disable certain functionality of the Services. You can learn more about Google Analytics and your options for opting out of interest-based Google ads at <https://adssettings.google.com>. You can learn more about targeted ads and your ability to opt out of receiving interest-based ads at optout.aboutads.info and www.networkadvertising.org/choices.

Cookies

Cookies, also known as tracking cookies or browser cookies, and similar technologies such as web beacons, clear GIFs, pixel tags, and JavaScript (collectively, “Cookies”) are small pieces of data, usually text files, placed on a computer, tablet, phone, or similar device when you use that device to access the Services. We use the following types of Cookies:

Essential Cookies. Essential Cookies are necessary for providing you with services and features that you requested. For example, these Cookies allow you to log into and stay logged into secure areas of the Services, save language preferences, and more. These Cookies are required to make the Services available to you, so they cannot be disabled.

Functional Cookies. Functional Cookies are utilized to record your choices and settings, maintain your preferences over time, and recognize you when you return to our Services. These Cookies help us personalize our content for you, greet you by name, and remember your preferences. Some examples include your ability to comment on a blog, facilitate web chat services, update user preferences, and more.

Performance/Analytical Cookies. Performance/Analytical Cookies allow us to understand how visitors (like you) use our Services. These Cookies accomplish this by collecting information about the number of visitors to the Services, what pages visitors view the most, and how long visitors view specific pages. These Cookies also help us measure and manage the performance of our advertising campaigns in order to help us improve the campaigns and the Services' content. For example, Google LLC ("Google") uses cookies in connection with its Google Analytics services. Google's ability to use and share information collected by Google Analytics about your visits to the Services is subject to the Google Analytics Terms of Use and the Google Privacy Policy. You have the option to opt-out of Google's use of Cookies by visiting the Google advertising opt-out page at http://www.google.com/privacy_ads.html or the Google Analytics Opt-out Browser Add-on at <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout/>.

You have the option to decide through your internet browser's settings whether or not to accept Cookies. Most browsers allow users to choose whether to turn off the Cookie feature, which will prevent your browser from accepting new Cookies, as well as (depending on the browser) allow you to toggle whether to accept each new Cookie. You can also clear all Cookies that are already on your device. If you do this, however, you may have to manually adjust some preferences every time you visit the Services and some functionalities may not work.

To explore what Cookie settings are available to you, look in the "settings", "preferences" or "options" section of your browser's menu. To find out more information about Cookies, including information about how to manage and delete Cookies generally, please visit <http://www.allaboutcookies.org/>.

How We Use Your Information

We process your personal information with your consent or as needed to provide you the Services. We may also use your personal information to comply with legal obligations, operate our business, protect the vital interests of you, our customers, or the public, or for other legitimate interests of BirdDog as described in this Privacy Policy.

More specifically, we may use your personal information to:

- Optimize and improve the Services. We continually try to improve the Services based on the information and feedback we receive from you and our other users, including by optimizing the content on or functionalities of the Services.
- Personalize the user experience. We may use your information to measure engagement with the Services and to understand how you and our other users interact with and use the Services and other resources we provide.
- Improve customer service. Your information helps us to more effectively develop the Services and respond to your support needs.
- Process transactions. We may use the information you provide to fulfill your requests. We do not share this information with outside parties except to the extent necessary to provide the Services and related activities.
- To send periodic communications. The communication methods you provide through our contact forms will be used to send information and updates pertaining to the Services. It may also be used to respond to your inquiries or other requests. When you provide your contact information to us — including through our website forms, advertisements, or when you create an account — you may receive emails from us that include BirdDog news, updates, product offerings, service information, sales and follow-up communications, and other promotional or marketing material. If at any time you would like to unsubscribe from receiving future emails, we include detailed unsubscribe instructions at the bottom of each email or you may contact us via the contact information below.

- To send periodic SMS messages. We may occasionally send you SMS messages through the number you provided to us. The messages will be sent based on BirdDog's legitimate business needs and for non-promotional reasons. If at any time you would like to unsubscribe from receiving future SMS messages, we include detailed unsubscribe instructions for how to do so or you may contact us via the contact information below.
- Carry out other legitimate business interests. We may use the information you provide to carry out other legitimate business purposes, as well as other lawful purposes.

We may use any aggregated information (as described below) for any purpose.

How We Share Your Information

We share your information with our partners, service providers, contractors, agents, and third-party vendors as needed to fulfill Services. Please note that our partners may contact you as necessary to obtain additional information about you, facilitate any use of the Services, or respond to a request you submit.

Third-party vendors who provide products, services or functions on our behalf may include business analytics companies, customer service vendors, communications service vendors, marketing vendors, and security vendors. We may also authorize third-party vendors to collect information on our behalf, including as necessary to operate features of the Services or provide online advertising tailored to your interests. Third-party vendors have access to and may collect personal information only as needed to perform their functions, may only use personal information consistent with this Privacy Policy and other appropriate confidentiality and security measures, and are not permitted to share or use the information for any other purpose.

Advertising Platforms. We share certain identifiers — including your email address and telephone number in hashed (pseudonymized) form — with advertising platforms such as Meta and Google. We do this so that we can match you to your account with those platforms, create "custom" or "matched" audiences, deliver advertising to you and to similar audiences, and measure the performance and conversions of our advertising campaigns. Depending on your state of residence, this sharing may be considered a "sale" or "sharing" of personal information for targeted or cross-context behavioral advertising. You can exercise choices regarding this activity as described in the "Your Privacy Choices" section below.

Advertising, Attribution, and Measurement Platforms. Subject to your Cookie choices and consent where required, we and third-party advertising, social media, analytics, and artificial intelligence platforms, including Meta, Google, X, and OpenAI, may use Cookies to collect or receive information about your use of the Services. This information may include cookie and advertising identifiers, referral and click identifiers, IP address, device and browser information, referring source, pages viewed, interactions with the Services, and conversion events such as account registrations, inquiries, bookings, and purchases.

We use these technologies to attribute visits and conversions to advertisements or referrals, measure and optimize advertising campaigns, create custom or matched audiences, and deliver advertising that may be relevant to your interests. These platforms may combine information received through the Services with information they independently maintain about you. Where enabled, we may provide hashed contact or customer identifiers, such as email addresses, telephone numbers, names, postal codes, or customer identifiers, to support attribution and matching.

Depending on applicable law, these activities may constitute the sale or sharing of personal information or processing for targeted advertising. You may manage these activities through our Cookie settings, exercise the choices described in the “Your Privacy Choices” section, or use a recognized opt-out preference signal such as Global Privacy Control.

We also may share your information:

- In response to subpoenas, court orders, or other legal process; to establish or exercise our legal rights; to defend against legal claims; or as otherwise required by law. In such cases we reserve the right to raise or waive any legal objection or right available to us.
- When we believe it is appropriate to investigate, prevent, or take action regarding illegal or suspected illegal activities; to protect and defend the rights, interests, or safety of our company or the Services, our customers, or others; or in connection with our Terms and Conditions and other agreements.
- In connection with a corporate transaction, such as a divestiture, merger, consolidation, or asset sale, or in the unlikely event of bankruptcy.

Other than as set out above, we will attempt to notify you when your personal information will be shared with third parties.

Personal Information You Post in Public Areas. When you post a message in a BirdDog review or customer feedback, the information you post may be accessible to other users of the Services and the public. If you post personal information anywhere on the Services that is accessible to other users or the public, you are advised that such personal information can be read, collected, used, or disseminated by others and could be used to send you unsolicited information or for other purposes. Accordingly, you assume full risk and responsibility for posting such information and agree that BirdDog is not responsible in any way for personal information you choose to post in these public areas.

Aggregated Information. We may publish, share, distribute, or disclose personal information that has been aggregated with information from other users or otherwise de-identified data in a manner that does not allow third parties, including BirdDog partners, sponsors, and advisers, to de-aggregate the data and identify it as originating from you. Such information may help BirdDog identify and analyze training, demographic, and psychographic trends and information, and report to third parties how many people saw, visited, or clicked on certain content, areas of the Services, ads, or other materials. We may also use such data for research purposes and optimizing the Services' functionality.

How We Store and Secure Your Information

Personal information collected by BirdDog may be stored and processed in your region, in the United States, and in any other country where BirdDog or its affiliates, subsidiaries, or service providers operate facilities. These countries may have data protection laws that are different to the laws of your country (and, in some cases, may not be as protective). However, we have taken appropriate safeguards to require that your personal information will remain protected in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

BirdDog takes technological and organizational measures to protect your personal information against loss, theft, and unauthorized access, use, disclosure, or modification. For example:

- we transmit data over secured communication channels using SSL Login credentials
- all personal information is stored by trusted third party providers (e.g., Google Cloud Platform),
- all systems used to provide the Services are password protected,
- all Services usage is restricted on a per-user basis on the principle of least privilege, and
- all data is encrypted during transfer and while at rest.

We rely on Google Cloud's security programs to protect personal information while stored in their respective controlled facilities. For more information on Google Cloud's security practices and processes, please see <https://cloud.google.com/armor/docs/security-policy-overview>.

BirdDog currently uses Stripe for payment, analytics, and other business services. Stripe, Inc. ("Stripe") collects identifying information about the devices that connect to each of their services. Stripe uses this information to operate and improve the services they provide to BirdDog, including for fraud detection. You can learn more about Stripe and read its privacy policy at <https://stripe.com/legal/privacy-center>. As with all third-party providers, BirdDog is not a party to any agreement between you and Stripe and does not control Stripe's privacy and data security policies. BirdDog reserves the right to change payment processors at any time.

BirdDog complies with applicable data protection laws, including applicable security breach notification requirements.

Data Retention

BirdDog will retain your information as long as necessary for the purposes outlined in this Privacy Policy, in a manner consistent with our data retention policy discussed below, and for a commercially reasonable time thereafter for backup, archival, fraud prevention or detection or audit purposes. BirdDog will retain your personal information consistent with the original purpose of collection or as long as necessary to comply with our legal obligations; maintain accurate accounting, financial and other operational records; resolve disputes; and enforce our agreements. We will never retain your information for a period longer than permitted by law.

We determine the appropriate retention period for personal information on the basis of the amount, nature, and sensitivity of the personal information being processed; the potential risk of harm from unauthorized use or disclosure of the personal information; whether we can achieve the purposes of the processing through other means; and on the basis of applicable legal requirements.

After expiration of the applicable retention periods, your personal information will be deleted.

Accessing and Updating Your Information

To the extent provided by the law of your jurisdiction, you may:

- i. Have the right to access certain personal information we maintain about you and request details about how we process it;
- ii. Request certain information regarding our disclosure of personal information to third parties for their direct marketing purposes;
- iii. Request that we update or correct inaccuracies regarding your personal information;
- iv. Object to our use of your personal information;
- v. Ask us to block or delete your personal information from our database;
- vi. Request to download the information you have shared on the Services; and
- vii. Confirm whether BirdDog stores your data in the United States.

You may make these requests and any other inquiries about this Privacy Policy by emailing support@birddogit.com. Any such requests are subject to the protection of other individuals' rights and applicable law. Additionally, to help protect your privacy and maintain security, we may take steps to verify your identity before granting you access to the information.

Accessing and Updating Your Information

Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information. We do not sell your personal information for money. However, our use of advertising platforms (such as Meta and Google) to deliver and measure targeted advertising may be considered a "sale" or "sharing" of personal information under certain state privacy laws. You have the right to opt out of this activity at any time.

To opt out, you may: (i) email us at support@birddogit.com with the subject line "Do Not Sell or Share"; or (ii) enable the Global Privacy Control (GPC) signal in your browser. We will not discriminate against you for exercising any of these rights.

Depending on your state of residence, you may also have rights to access, correct, delete, or obtain a copy of your personal information, and to appeal a denial of any request. To exercise these rights, contact us using the information below.

Additional Privacy Information

Data Transfer. Our databases are currently located in the United States. BirdDog makes no claim that its Services are appropriate or lawful for use or access outside the United States. If you access the Services from outside the United States, you are consenting to the transfer of your personal information from your location to the United States. You are solely responsible for complying with all local laws, rules and regulations regarding online conduct and access to the Services. By sending us your information, you further consent to its storage within the United States.

Collection of Data from Children. The Services are not directed to children, and you may not use the Services or provide any personal information to BirdDog if you are under the age of 13 (or the lowest age permitted by applicable law) or if you are not old enough to consent to the processing of your personal information in your country.

California Resident Privacy Rights. California Civil Code Section 1798.83 permits our customers who are California residents to request certain information regarding our disclosure of personal information to third parties for their direct marketing purposes. To make such a request, please e-mail us or write to us at the addresses below.
